“Did Exxon-Mobil Buy Your Senator?”*

-I saw that too! Just the regular Lefty insult!

-Well, did they?–with all due respect.

-Clown! They’ve been regular and generous contributors, or their employees…whatever. They bundle the dough to evade the stupid law. But it’d take mega mega to buy me!

-Would you say that with all your contributors combined, you’re bought?

-Trussed-up like a Thanksgiving turkey! But I’ve mysteriously got stock in most of the corporations. So you’d hafta say I’m buying myself.

-Extraordinary paradox. Or something. Where do the people fit in all of this?

-Fuck the people! Do they make anything go? This is Washington. No people here.
